

AN “ENTERTAINING EVENING” AT COOKBURY AND BRADFORD VILLAGE HALL

On Saturday 19th November, 2 playlets were performed, to raise funds for the Friends of Cookbury Church and to advertise the Food Bank both at Bude and newly opened at Holsworthy. The playlets, performed with possibly more enthusiasm than expertise, were written by Mike Welch (The Squire Takes a Gander)

and featured local actors plus, in the first case, 3 geese. The audience took it all in good part and participated with enthusiasm. Of the geese, we have to nominate Jack (pictured) as best feathered actor.

Together with a raffle, some £300 was raised and this will provide the Friends of Cookbury Church with a platform to go ahead with further fund raising.
